

00:15:43 Rita Perea: Hi everyone! Happy we could all be together today!

00:16:14 MJ W: Hi Hi all

00:19:01 MJ W: I thought the rating system was revised ?

00:20:01 MJ W: p 47

00:30:48 Ibrahim Kone: Could the FX ticker(XAGUSD) could be used instead of SLV ?

00:31:22 Matthieu Kaiser: Same question about CFDs

00:32:04 Matthieu Kaiser: OK! :-)

00:32:31 Matthieu Kaiser: Contracts for differences

00:32:40 Matthieu Kaiser: works somewhat like futures

00:33:15 Matthieu Kaiser: you Don't have to put an initial deposit

00:33:27 Matthieu Kaiser: exactly

00:33:29 MJ W: so this is particular rating for silver study

00:33:35 Ibrahim Kone: They are leverage instrument for stock and etc 10x leverage

00:33:44 Matthieu Kaiser: yes

00:33:59 Matthieu Kaiser: very risky for retail investors

00:34:34 MJ W: top p 47

00:44:41 Hui Fang Boo: How do we calculate the big range days? Is that a feature in FAR?

00:45:54 Hui Fang Boo: thanks

00:46:11 Danica Cordell-Reeh: Please show how calculated

00:51:17 Merriman Market Analyst: Tke Silver n Friday. H was 2322, low was 2243.50. H-L = 78.5. Now determine the percent of day's range by taking  $78/2243.5 = 3.5\%$

00:52:24 Hui Fang Boo: How do we derive the weighted value for the big range days from there?

00:53:30 Hui Fang Boo: Noted with thanks

00:53:51 Danica Cordell-Reeh: Will it list those dates

00:53:57 adam childs: leo again

00:54:22 adam childs: silver like or reacts to moon in leo

00:56:08 adam childs: And sag

00:56:51 Merriman Market Analyst: Go to Big Range days in FAR and run frequencies after you establish your criterion for a Big Range Day. If it is 3.5%, then insert that into the formula. Then go to Run Frequencies and it will give you the weighted value scores for each planet in each sign, or each planet within a sun sign, or Mercury sign, etc.

- 01:17:31 MJ W: thank you
- 01:25:05 Martha Geiger: cant see a chart
- 01:25:17 Martha Geiger: NVM
- 01:27:03 Wyatt Fellows: 9/3
- 01:28:11 Matthieu Kaiser: 4.3%
- 01:28:27 Martha Geiger: Do we have to have FAR to do this list? Or use the charts in this lesson?
- 01:28:38 Ali Alvarado Atias: YES!
- 01:28:49 Eleonore Charrez: Could you give Ali the hand please ?
- 01:29:14 Matthieu Kaiser: This is really great to get all these tables, thanks a lot!
- 01:36:55 Wyatt Fellows: matthieu...gold/silver closed terrible Friday BUT platinum closed strong...above 45dma and 8 week moving average...confirms a possible shortened primary low on 9/20 from the count im working with
- 01:37:50 Matthieu Kaiser: thank you Wyatt
- 01:38:53 Matthieu Kaiser: on Silver, I'm still considering August 9th as a possible primary Bottom... which would be bearish for silver - an extended primary cycle ending on September 29th would be better! :-)
- 01:41:01 Merriman Market Analyst: Yes, one can make a case for either a primary cycle low Aug 9, which would be bearish, or Sept 20 as an expanded (distorted) primary cycle. Not confirmed yet
- 01:41:33 Matthieu Kaiser: thank you for confirming the analysis :-)
- 01:42:13 Merriman Market Analyst: Yes :-))
- 01:42:17 Matthieu Kaiser: why do you consider Sept 20 and not 29 ?
- 01:42:39 Matthieu Kaiser: would that imply too long a primary cycle?
- 01:42:57 Merriman Market Analyst: Oh yes, Sept 29 is correct not Sept 20
- 01:43:19 Martha Geiger: Her mute button shows up
- 01:54:48 Ibrahim Kone: Chiron is also opposite to mercury
