

MMA WEEKLY STOCK INDICES REPORT
WEEK OF MARCH 28, 2022

Comments: Please take a moment to view my free weekly geocosmic column on financial markets. Alternatively, you can go to www.mmacycles.com and then choose Weekly Preview. We are pleased to announce that this free weekly column is also available in German – Dutch. Several sites post the weekly column in English too, including <https://www.neptunecafe.com/merriman>

GEOCOSMIC CRITICAL REVERSAL DATES (CRDs)

These dates affect all markets. They are the midpoints of geocosmic clusters and have a normal orb of three days either side (82% rate of frequency). Sometimes they expand to as much as six days (90+% frequency with that orb). The idea is to see a new two-week or greater high or low, and then a reversal. It is especially effective when major, half-primary, or primary cycle troughs are due. These are more important than the solar-lunar reversal dates. The more stars, the greater the historical correlation with a cycle culmination. For more information, please read Volume 3 of the Stock Market Timing series. Below is the date of the midpoint and in parentheses the length of time containing the geocosmic signatures (known as a “cluster”). If the cluster is long (more than 15 days), there may be other possible reversals, based on tighter geocosmic clusters, within the greater cluster.

Mar 18-21* (We are here. Secondary low in stocks, low in Crude Oil, T-Notes, Euro, break down in Yen)

April 1* (Venus and Mars conjunct Saturn)

April 12 (May stretch from April 4-15)

May 6-9

These periods are usually more important than the solar/lunar reversal zones, and usually more accurate because they have a wider orb of time (+/- 3 trading days vs +/- 1 trading day for solar/lunars). They will correspond more often with major, half-primary, or full primary cycles, whereas lunar reversals need only correspond to 2.5% reversals.

ABBREVIATIONS:

CRD = Geocosmic Critical Reversal Date
ATH = All-Time High
MA = Moving Average
PB = Primary cycle bottom
PT = Primary cycle top
MB = Major cycle bottom
MT = Major cycle top
TB = Trading cycle bottom
TT = Trading cycle top

DJIA Cash: Last week's close was neutral. And the close was above the weekly trend indicator point (TIP) for the 2nd week, which means it remains neutral.

This week's trend indicator point (TIP) is 33,953. It will be upgraded to a trend run up if prices close up this week.

Weekly support is 34,487-34,561. A close below this support level is bearish. A trade below, followed by a close back above this range, is a bullish trigger.

Weekly resistance is 35,088-35,162. A trade above here, followed by a close back below this range, is a bearish trigger.

Bullish crossover zones remain in effect at 33,444-33,786, 31,927-32,138, 24,769-24,894, 21,925-22,561, 18,931-19,018, 18,043-18,408, 17,348-17,352, 15,029-15,149, 13,717-13,760, 13,070-13,163, 12,799-12,802, 11,513-11,572, and 8266-8433. It closed above another recently at 35,220-35,296, so that is now resistance (went above, closed below).

A bearish crossover zone remains in effect at 35,208-36,348. The DJIA closed above other bearish crossover zones that had previously formed at 30,615-30,817, 27,522-28,013, 20,599-21,252, 18,318-18,367, 18,083-18,087, and 16,892-17,314, so these are now support.

Trend Indicator Studies

The basic trend indicator (for intermediate-term investors) remains neutral. It will turn bearish if it closes below the new 11-month low of 32,272 on February 24 or bullish if it closes above the ATH of 36,952 on January 5.

The weekly moving average trend indicator (for intermediate-term investors) remains "neutral." DJIA closed the week at 34,861, up 106 points from the prior week. The close was below the 25-week moving average (35,118), the 34-week MA (35,086), and the 50-week MA at 34,885. Right now, the 25-week MA remains above the 34- and 50-week moving averages, but prices are still below each, which is "neutral." If the DJIA closes back above all three, it will be upgraded to "bullish." If the 25-week MA falls back below the 50-week with prices below each, it will be downgraded to "bearish."

The daily moving average trend study (for traders) remains "neutral" as the daily close was above both the 15-day moving average (33,862) and the 45-day MA (34,266), but the 15-day MA is still below the 45-day MA. If prices close back below both the 15-day and 45-day MAs, it will be downgraded back to "bearish." If price remains above MAs, and at the same time, the 15-day MA moves back above the 45-day MA, it will be upgraded back to "bullish."

The Primary Cycle and Longer Cycles

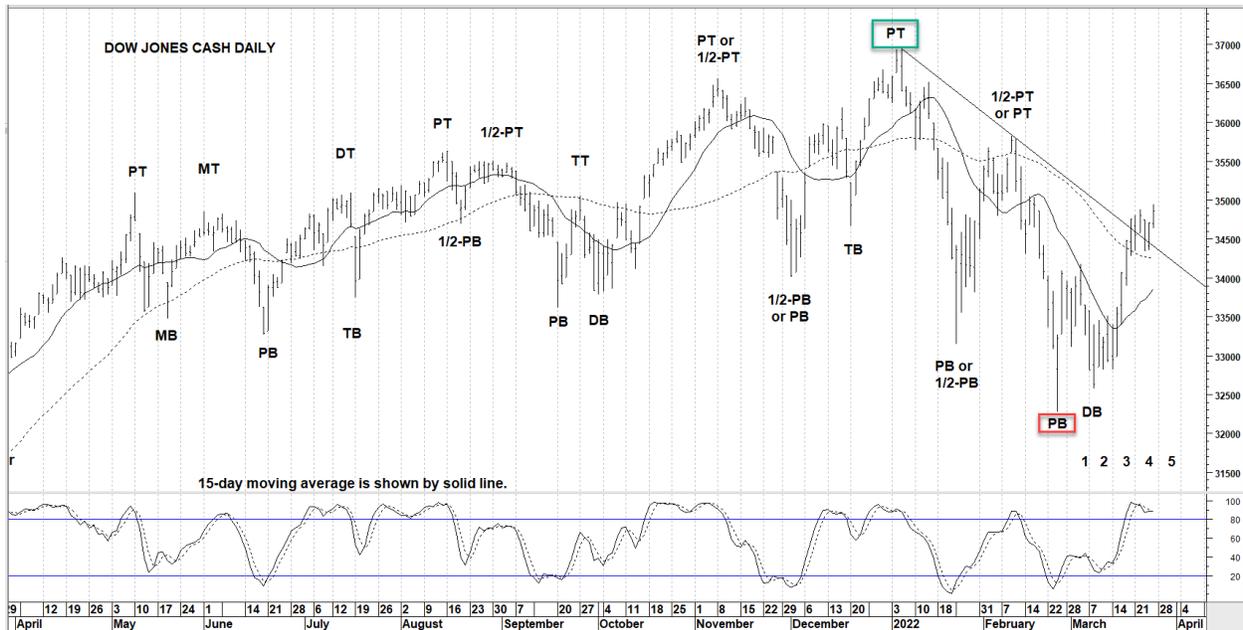

Preferred primary cycle labeling: This begins the 5th week of the newer 13–23-week primary cycle. Whether this turns out to be a bullish or bearish primary cycle depends on whether it is also the 5th week of a new 23-month cycle.

As stated last week, "If Feb 24 was also the 23-month cycle trough, then this will likely be a bullish primary cycle, and it will not top out before the 9th week. The ultimate top would not be in for at least 2-6 months, even maybe much longer. If it wasn't the 23-month cycle, then this rally would only last 2-5 weeks and be followed by a decline to a lower low (below 32,272) into the primary and 23-month cycle low due in 9-19 weeks."

A 5-7 week major cycle trough is due in the next two weeks as well. If the trend is now bullish, as I suspect, then this will only be a corrective decline, lasting 3-8 trading days from the crest once this rally ends.

Alternate primary cycle labeling: There is none at this time. The only question is whether this will be a bullish or bearish primary cycle. At this point, my bias is bullish.

Geocosmics and CRDs

The 3-star CRD of March 18-21 +/- 3 trading days, which contains Venus and Mars square to Uranus (March 19 and 22) and also a full Moon on March 18, has not coincided with a cycle of any significance yet. However, it is possible it may take up to six days and will coincide with a major cycle crest by Tuesday of this week.

There are other aspects to consider as part of the calculation for a CRD. For example, Venus and Mars will conjoin Saturn, March 29-April 5. It is possible we could see a major cycle crest or trough form midway between, which is April 1-2. If so, our rule is to buy a market in which prices are declining into a hard Saturn aspect, especially Venus/Saturn.

And underlying the strength of the stock market is the Jupiter/Neptune conjunction coming up on April 12. As stated last week, "After the Mars aspects of March 22-April 5 ends, Jupiter will conjoin Neptune on April 12, which highlights the possibility of peace efforts being offered and possibly enacted. If so, stock markets could explode higher in the spirit of speculative fervor." We are moving from fear and hysteria to irrational exuberance. If it falls too hard, day below 33,000, we may move back to fear and hysteria.

The solar/lunar studies are all displaying strong values of a reversal this week. It could be a crazy week with sharp price swings as we head to Friday's new moon in Aries.

Technicals, Chart Patterns, and Price Targets

Intermarket divergence: The NASDAQ made a new cycle low on March 15, within three trading days of the March 18-21 three-star CRD zone, but the S&P and DJIA did not, for a case of intermarket bullish divergence. We can watch for signs of intermarket bearish divergence this week where one market takes out last week's high, but not all three do the same.

Stochastic oscillator: It is still falling from an oversold condition at the high of March 25, which is a sign of bearish oscillator divergence. This could lead to a 3-8 day pullback to a major cycle trough.

Price Targets: Last week's report stated, "If this new primary cycle is going to be bullish, we will look for a re-test of the all-time high at 35,952 on January 5. This would be due 2-6 months after that low. If this primary cycle is to be bearish, which means the 23-month cycle is still ahead, then this rally will likely not last more than 5 weeks and will not make a new high. Its price target would be 34,612 +/- 552." Friday's high was 34,942, which is in the upper part of this range, which is another reason why there could be a pullback starting here. The question is whether the high forming now is the crest of a new and bearish primary cycle or just the end of the first leg up in a new bull market cycle (I think the latter).

If a primary cycle crest is unfolding now, then another serious, multi-week decline is ready to start with a downside price target of 30,272 +/- 788. If it is just a corrective decline, it will probably remain well above 32,900, followed by an even higher price in the next rally. The price target for a normal corrective decline would be 33,607 +/- 315 if Friday's high holds.

Lunar cycles for the next two weeks are as follows: Anything above 113 means there is a higher-than-expected probability of a reversal from an isolated high or low. The more *, the more likely a reversal. The more #, the less likely a reversal. If it states, "often a high" or "often a low," it means that a high or low has occurred about twice as often as a high or a low in the past. However, if the value has an asterisk next to it, it should be looked upon more as a reversal, whether historically it has been more often a high or low. Other figures to the right indicate reversal periods shown by the recent studies of MMTA student Yating Hu that deserve attention.

Mar 28	149.6
Mar 29-30	115.8*	(114.65* and more often a high)
Mar 31-Apr 1	118.0*
Apr 4	81.3#	(91.5)
Apr 5-6	97.8	(95.5)
Apr 7-8	64.2###	(91.0)

Strategy: Position traders are long with a stop-loss on a close below 32,274 if the other two indices also make a new low.

Aggressive traders are long with a stop-loss on a close below 32,274. Cover 1/3 at 35,100 +/- 60 and buy back at 33,600 +/- 60.

ESM (June S&P e-mini): Last week's close was neutral. And the close was above the TIP for the 2nd week, which means it remains neutral.

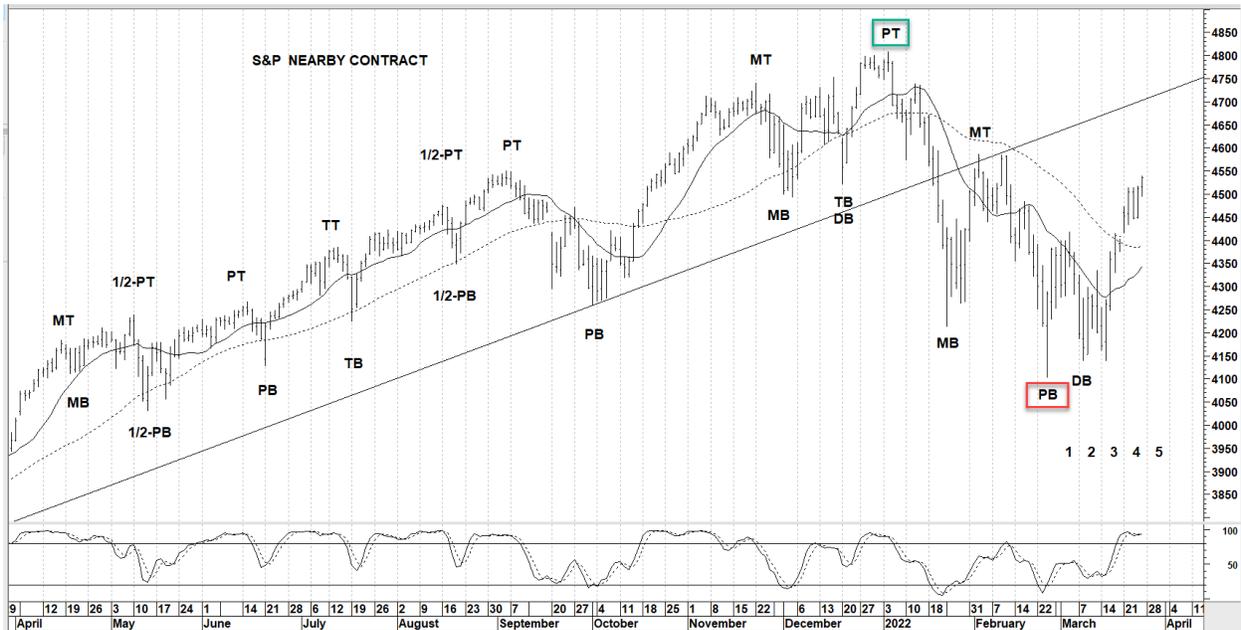

This week's trend indicator point (TIP) is 4354.25. It will be upgraded to a trend run down if it closes up this week.

Weekly support is 4454.75-4474.50. A close below this range would be bearish, whereas a trade below and a close back above is a bullish trigger.

Weekly resistance is 4578.75-4598.50. A close above this range would be bullish and create a bullish sequence, whereas a trade above and a close back above is a bearish trigger.

Bullish crossover zones remain in effect at 4290.75-4295.50, 4040.50-4069.25, 2588.25-2617.50, 2206.75-2219.25, 1661.25-1663, 1405.50-1418, 1381.75-1382.75, 1263-1263.25, 1184.25-1196.75, 889.55-902.40, and 791.10-791.25.

A bearish crossover zone recently formed at 4535-4572 (that held the high last week). Prices closed above bearish crossover zones previously at 4212.25-4215, 3375.50-3404.75, and 3180.50-3312.75, so these are support.

Preferred primary cycle labeling: This starts the 5th week of the 15-23 week primary cycle off the low of February 24 at 4101.75. In this labeling, the rally will likely last only 2-5 weeks off the low if it is to be bearish (we are there now). If bullish, it would likely last over 8 weeks.

A 5-8 week major cycle trough is due within the next 3 weeks. If that is only a corrective retracement and the next rally goes higher than this rally, it is bullish. If neither of those things happens (it falls more sharply and/or the next rally does not make a new high), it is more bearish.

Alternate primary cycle labeling #1: There is none now. The only question so whether this primary cycle will be bearish (peak in weeks 2-5, or now) or bullish (peaks after Tuesday of the 9th week).

Geocosmics: A 3-star CRD is now, March 18-21 may still be underway and may take 4-6 days to complete a rally and then reverse. Also, Venus and Mars conjoin Saturn from March 29-April 5, and the reversal may not happen until then. However, we prefer to see a pullback into that time frame as a buying opportunity headed into Jupiter conjunct Neptune on April 12, followed by Venus conjoining Jupiter and Neptune on April 27-30. We prefer to see that as the time for a cycle high.

Last week stated, “Jupiter will conjoin Neptune after that on April 12, and my bias is that the market will rally strongly into that aspect. If, instead, it is falling, Jupiter./Neptune would imply panic and hysteria. Instead, I think we will see euphoria and irrational exuberance, the other side of Jupiter and Neptune in Pisces.”

Notes: The all-time high of Jan 4 was matched by the DJIA making an ATH, but not the NQH, so there is still a case of intermarket bearish divergence still in effect until all make a new ATH the same week.

However, on March 15, within three trading days of our March 18-21 three-star CRD, the NASDAQ made a new cycle low, and the other indices did not, thus fulfilling the criteria for intermarket bullish divergence. That was a buy signal.

Stochastics are overbought and readying for a pullback of some sort, perhaps to a major cycle low due within 3 weeks, and the result of a 3-8 day decline.

If Friday was a major cycle crest, then look for a 3-8 day decline to 4320.50 +/- 51.50.

Strategy: Position traders are long with a stop-loss on a close below 4101 if the other two indices also make a new low. Traders were advised, “Cover 1/3 at 4550 /- 12 if offered,” which was achieved last week for the first profit 1/3 position.

Aggressive traders are long with a stop-loss on a close below 4101. Stay long if one market at least does not take out its low of Feb 24. Cover 1/3 at 4550 /- 12 if offered. Traders were advised, “Cover 1/3 at 4550 /- 12 if offered,” which was achieved last week for the first profit 1/3 position. Buy back at 4300 +/- 12 if offered.

NQM (June e-mini-NASDAQ): Last week's close was neutral. And the close was above the TIP for the 2nd week, which means it remains neutral.

This week's trend indicator point (TIP) is 13,983.25. It will be upgraded to a trend run up if it closes up this week.

Weekly support is 14,346.25-14,427.50.

Weekly resistance is 15,003-15,084. A close above here will be a bullish sequence.

Bullish crossover zones formed previously at 12,473-12,538, 12,339-12,367, 11,925-12,046, 11,421-11,487, 5711-5745, 5482-5516.50, 5259-5275, 5085.75-5093.50 and 4410-4418. It closed below others recently at 15,537-15,554 16,190-16,194, which are now resistance.

Bearish crossover zones remain in effect at 16,108-16,197 and 15,049-15,167.50. Prices closed above bearish crossover zones previously at 11,422-11,467, 9073.50-9325.25, 6372-6489.50, 4747-4756, 4437-4540.25, 4410-4419, and 4176-4178, so these are now support zones.

Preferred primary cycle labeling: This starts the 2nd week of the new 15-23-week primary cycle off the low that happened on March 15 at 12,942.50. The other indices did not make a new low and that was within orb of the March 18-21 three-star CRD. If this primary cycle is to be bearish, it will top in the next three weeks. If bullish, it would top out for at least 6 more weeks.

Alternate primary cycle labeling: There is none as prices have now touched the 45-day MA, indicating it is a new primary cycle. The only question so whether this primary cycle will be bearish (peak in weeks 2-5) or bullish (peaks after Tuesday of the 9th week).

Notes: Venus and Mars squared Uranus last week (March 19-22), and Uranus rules this market. It appears that coincided with a breakout to the upside, but not a new high. Or it could still be correlated with a trading cycle crest and brief but sharp pull back yet, as sometimes these reversals dates can have a range of up to 6 trading days (Monday will be day #5).

Last week stated, “Stochastics are pointed straight up and now overbought, suggesting higher prices ahead.” That seemed to trump the geocosmic indicator of a top early last week and a decline, which didn't happen yet.

Last week also stated, “If last week (March 15) was the primary cycle trough, then even a corrective rally of 2-5 weeks would have a price target of 14,855 +/- 451.50. Above there, we could see a re-test of the all-time highs or even higher.” Friday's high was right there at 14,840, which is another reason why we might see a top and corrective decline begin here. If so, the downside price target for that decline is 13,891 .50 +/- 224.

Strategy: Position traders are long with the stop-loss on a close below 12,942.50.

Aggressive traders are long, with the stop-loss on a close below 12,942.50. Traders were advised, “Cover 1/3 at 14,750 +/- 60.” That was elected. Buy back at 13,750 +/- 60.

August 25, 2022: 1:00 PM, Denver, CO, ISAR Conference, 4-Hour Pre-Conference Workshop by Raymond Merriman on “ASTROLOGY AND THE ART OF FINANCIAL MARKET TIMING: HOW TO FORECAST TRENDS AND MARKET REVERSALS.” Financial markets offer objective means to test astrological validity. The Moon changes signs every 2-3 days and is valuable for short-term trading. Planetary stations and aspects identify longer-term market reversals. Approximately 4-5 times/year, markets will form important highs or lows, which are the most favorable times to buy and sell for position traders. This course provides research studies showing the correlation of astrological factors to short-term and longer-term financial markets. The focus will be upon stock markets, precious metals (Gold and Silver), and Bitcoin, and how to integrate astrology with cycle studies to attain optimal market timing skills. Support may represent favorable risk/reward places to buy if the trend is up. If prices trade below support, then have a close back above, it is considered a bullish “trigger,” and oftentimes represents a good buy signal. Resistance may represent favorable risk/reward places to go short if the trend is down. If prices trade above it, then have a weekly close back below, it is considered a bearish “trigger,” and oftentimes is a good sell signal.
