

00:37:54      vincent wang: it is called pips

00:50:57      Jennifer Seiden: Beautiful Work!

00:51:52      Ibrahim Koné: Brilliant! Thank you for sharing Pouyan

00:52:33      Vito Mijal-PAsa: for sure brilliant buddy

00:52:51      Danica Cordell-Reeh: amazing visual summary

00:52:55      Rita Perea: Wow! Great information, Pouyan!

00:53:15      shanna forlano: very impressive - thank you for sharing !

00:53:17      vincent wang: great works

00:53:31      Ali Alvarado Atias: ty

01:13:35      Ray Merriman: That is correct Ibrahim. Possibly Ethererum forming its half-primary cycle low this week.

01:48:07      Merriman Market Analyst: H: 36,679 L: 29,856 C: 36,338

01:49:03      Pouyan Zolfagharnia: 32,926.43

01:50:18      Merriman Market Analyst: 34291

01:50:42      Pouyan Zolfagharnia: 31,903

01:54:46      Ibrahim Koné: Ray you mentioned Gold and Silver presenting some divergence as well could you elaborate on that

01:55:00      vincent wang: rumours is that jap govt is buying US treasury

01:55:53      Ibrahim Koné: I think JPY is top 3 or 5 currency in the world

01:57:37      Ibrahim Koné: CHF is still pegged to EUR

01:58:22      vincent wang: USD started to weaken from 1976-1980 even when paul Volker raised rate to 16%, usd reversed even when there was a democrat, president jimmy carter

01:59:14      Eleonore Charrez: CHF is not pegged to EUR

01:59:25      Eleonore Charrez: It never really was pegged...

01:59:33      vincent wang: yeah, it broke

01:59:46      Eleonore Charrez: but to avoid the CHF strength, the swiss central bank buys EUR...

01:59:50      Eleonore Charrez: and other currencies

02:01:36      vincent wang: can look at usd index from 1976-1980?

02:02:02      vincent wang: I can show it

02:03:32 Eleonore Charrez: long term charts : <https://www.macrotrends.net/1319/dow-jones-100-year-historical-chart>

02:08:59 Eleonore Charrez: The contrary happened to hungariens who had taken up EUR debt and had to pay back EUR with a depreciating hungarian currency

02:09:14 Eleonore Charrez: back in the late 90s I think

02:09:39 Vito Mijal-PAsa: Charts are charts but fundamentally we have additional dimensions these days, different demographics in different societies, broken supply chains , quite a different degree WAR which is threatening world wide hunger, so my take is ,in some sense, things in market movements may not make the usual common sense etc etc...

02:09:50 Danica Cordell-Reeh: Could one chart inflation. Saw a chart on Us year/year inflation which seemed to have a cycle of 29 year 1918 c to 1947C with bottoms in 1922 and 1932 then 33 years 1947c to 1980c with bottoms in 1949 then 27 years 1980c to 2007 with bottom in 1986

02:11:12 Wyatt Fellows: didn't silver and gold have divergence at the may lows?

02:11:18 Wyatt Fellows: on a weekly scale

02:13:35 Eleonore Charrez: <https://www.macrotrends.net/2584/5-year-5-year-forward-inflation-rate-chart>

02:13:44 Eleonore Charrez: <https://www.macrotrends.net/2497/historical-inflation-rate-by-year>

02:13:54 Eleonore Charrez: inflation, past and future expected

02:14:11 Eleonore Charrez: macrotrends has a whole bunch of very long term charts

02:15:27 vincent wang: thanks

02:15:36 Pouyan Zolfagharnia: Thank you!!

02:15:47 Ali Alvarado Atias: TY All,Good Afternoon!

02:15:50 Rita Perea: Thanks!!!

02:16:02 vincent wang: bye
